

JULY BRIDES ARE NOT LESS FAIR

As Sweet As Those Wedded Under Skies of June.

VIRGINIANS SCATTERED FAR

Hardly a Pleasure Resort in the East Without Old Dominion's Representative.

How the Gates Came Ajar. 'Twas whispered one morning in Heaven How the little child angel May, In the shade of the great white portal, Sat sorrowing night and day. How she said to the stately warden— "Him of the key and bar—me. 'O angel, sweet angel, I pray you, Set the beautiful gates ajar!"

"I can hear my mother weeping, She is lonely; she cannot see A glimmer of light in the darkness, Where the gates shut out the sun. The splendor will shine so far!" But the warden answered, "I dare not Set the beautiful gates ajar!" Spoke low and answered: "I dare not Set the beautiful gates ajar!"

Then up rose Mary, the blessed— Sweet Mary, mother of Christ— Her hand on the hand of the angel She laid, and the touch sufficed: Turned was the key in the portal, And lo! in the little child's fingers Stood the beautiful gates ajar!

"And this key, for no further using, To my blessed Son shall be given, Tenderest heart in Heaven; Now never a sad-eyed mother But may watch the glory afar, Since safe in the Lord Christ's bosom Are the beautiful gates ajar; Close hid in the dear Christ's bosom, Are the beautiful gates ajar."—Selected.

Ford-Walker. The wedding of Miss Eliza Beth Lydia Walker, daughter of Mrs. Medora Easton Walker, of St. Louis, and until recently a member of the faculty of the Virginia Female Institute, at Staunton, Va., to Colonel Henry Clinton Ford, of the Virginia Military Institute, was celebrated at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 15th, in the home of the bride's cousin, Mr. Edward Bates Easton, of No. 1465 Lotus Avenue, St. Louis. The Rev. George H. Hunt, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, being the celebrant. Drawing room and altar decorations were in palms. The bride, dressed in a blue tulle gown, and carrying a white sweet pea, came in with her mother, who gave her away. After the ceremony the bride and groom received the congratulations of friends. They left at noon to spend their honeymoon at the summer resorts of Michigan. Among those present at the wedding, the news of which has been received with much interest in Richmond and Virginia, were Mrs. Elizabeth Morton, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Spence, of Milwaukee; Mrs. Henry Clay Easton and Mrs. Lintz, of St. Charles, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Kremenlo, of St. Charles, and Mr. McElheny, of New York.

Engagement Announced. Mrs. Hunter Holmes McGuire announces the engagement of her daughter, Frances B., to Mr. Guy Davis, formerly of this city, but more recently of Norfolk, Va., where he is now successfully engaged in business. The date of the wedding has not yet been made public. Mrs. McGuire has always lived in Richmond, where she enjoys an unlimited amount of popularity. She is the daughter of the late distinguished Confederate surgeon, Hunter Holmes McGuire, and the sister of Dr. Stuart McGuire, president, and one of the verities of the South in his profession.

Wright-Pile. Mr. Davis is the nephew of the late Colonel John Guy, a prominent member for many years of the Richmond bar. A wedding in which Bristol and Richmond, Va., people will be equally interested, will be celebrated in the State Street Methodist Church of Bristol, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon of July 19th, by the Rev. W. S. Neighbors, when Miss Blanche Pile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Pile, of Bristol, is given in marriage to Mr. James Walter Wright, president of the "Traders and Merchants' Bank, at Mountain City, Va., and the son of Mr. S. M. Wright, of Danvers, Va. The church will be beautifully decorated with palms, the aisles spanned with arches of smilax and white roses, and a wedding bell of the roses suspended just above where the bride and groom stand.

before the altar. Miss Irene McDowell will direct the music that will include the processional and recessional wedding marches, and a number of beautiful and appropriate selections. Miss Magill Pile, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, and Mr. William Grever, of Knoxville, Tenn., the best man. Other attendants will include: Miss Delle Smith, with Mr. Tom Pemberton, of Bristol; Miss Nell Bachman, of Bristol, with Mr. Sam Moech, of Damascus, Va.; Miss Eliza Beth Walker, of St. Louis, with Mr. Bruce Bushong, of Bristol; Miss Wright, sister of the groom, with Mr. John Legard, of Abingdon, Va. The ushers will be Messrs Harry Roberts, of Roanoke, Va.; Edward Pile, Alvin Tillit, and Dr. J. T. McIntyre, of Bristol, Tenn. The bride will enter the church with Mr. George C. Pile, her father. She will be elegantly gowned in white crepe de chine above tulle, trimmed in lace and chiffon. Her veil will be caught with orange blossoms. She will carry a bride roses, and her only ornament will be a pearl and diamond brooch, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor will wear white net over white satin, with several ribbons. The bridesmaids will all be in soft white silk. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids will have bouquets of white carnations. At a reception to be tendered the bridal party Tuesday evening next the house will be decorated in evergreens and white roses. A profusion of wedding gifts in cut glass, silver and bric-a-brac have been received. The wedding trip through the East will embrace visits to New York, Niagara and points of interest in Canada. Guests to attend the wedding will be Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hayter and Miss Blair Hayter, Mrs. Kendrick and Miss Blanche, of Abingdon, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yost, Mr. William Grever, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Wright, Misses Mae and Clara Wright, Messrs. Clayton and Charles Wright, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. John Fawcett, Mr. Samuel Moech, all of Damascus, Va.; Mr. John Legard, of Abingdon; Mr. Harry Roberts, of Roanoke; Mrs. A. Y. Steele and Miss Clio Thompson, of Tazewell, Va.

House Party and Reunion. A most interesting house party and family reunion at Leeburn, the summer residence in Caswell county, North Carolina, of Mr. George A. Lea, of Danville, Va., came to an end last week. The members of the party were seven sisters—Mrs. Annie St. Clair Butler, Mrs. Sallie B. Wilson and Mrs. Mattie B. Thomas, of Richmond; Mrs. E. B. Lewis, of Kingston, N. C.; Mrs. M. B. Graves, of Washington city; Miss E. B. Graves, of Danville, Va.; and Mrs. Frances W. Betts, of Asheville, N. C. They are the daughters of the late Captain William S. Betts, of Halifax county, Va., and the granddaughters of Captain Edgar Betts, of Virginia, and Colonel O. Faulkner, of North Carolina, both of whom were soldiers in the War of 1812. The sisters, all married and several granddaughters, had not met since the celebration of their parents' golden wedding in 1857. The ten days of the house party passed rapidly by. Before good-byes were said, however, a reunion in 1896, with Mrs. Walter, of this city, as hostess, and Virginia Beach as the place of meeting, was planned. The birthday of one of the sisters was an event of the house party, the fortunate anniversary being commemorated with much ceremony and many beautiful gifts.

Delightful Supper. There was a delightful fish supper given at Capt. Henry Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Louise Jones, of Richmond, who has been spending her days at the Blow cottage. The party of eleven left the beach at 7 o'clock and found awaiting them a sumptuous feast of soft crabs, oysters, fish and other sea foods. After supper, the merry party indulged in dancing and returned to Virginia Beach at 10:30.

Among those in the party were Mrs. Horace Cleveland Chandler, Washington, D. C.; Miss Maude McKenney, Miss Louise T. James, Miss Jeanne Taylor, Richmond, Va.; Miss Pocahontas White, Abingdon, Va.; Mr. George Sargent, Mr. Robert M. Hughes, Jr., Mr. Billy Stone, Norfolk, Va.; Mr. Richard P. Winston, Mr. John Quarles Farmer, Mr. Otway Chalkley, Richmond, Va.

Sailed Saturday. The many friends of Mr. W. A. Hammond will regret to hear that, on account of continued ill health, he sailed from New York Saturday to try the beneficial effects of an ocean voyage, as prescribed by his physician. Mr. Hammond was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Hammond, They will go directly to Glasgow, and, after spending some time in Scotland, will go to London, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond will be away about six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Here. Among the recent arrivals in Richmond are Professor and Mrs. Martin, formerly of the Woman's College, but for the past winter of New York.

Mr. Martin graduated with high honors from Columbia University and was awarded a scholarship for next year. Mr. Martin has had several engagements offered him for next autumn, but has not fully decided on his plans. During the summer months he will be associated with Dr. Nelson in work at the Woman's College.

Mrs. Rhea's Bereavement. Hundreds of hearts in Richmond will go out in sympathy to Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee and to Lieutenant and Mrs. J. C. Rhea, at news received from Calcasieu Springs, La., of the death there, on July 12th, after one day's illness, of little Catherine Le Grand Rhea, aged five months, and granddaughter of Mrs. Lee. Mrs. Rhea was, before her marriage, Miss Ellen Lee, daughter of General and Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee. During her childhood she lived in Richmond, where she is remembered with great affection. Her grief in the loss of her infant daughter is doubly heavy, because of Lieutenant Rhea's absence with his command in the Philippines. The little baby has been temporarily laid to rest in a receiving vault at Chattanooga. When the autumn comes her body will be brought to Richmond and buried in the same section where her grandfather, Virginia's gallant soldier and statesman, lies in the sleep of peace.

Miss Armstrong Honored. Miss Gladys Armstrong, of Richmond, 1811, Long Island, who has for several summers past been the guest of Miss Margaret Murphy, of Harrison and West Avenue, arrived Saturday on the Old Dominion line, and was the guest of honor at a delightful tally-ho party of Monday night.

Miss Armstrong, besides being an unusually attractive girl, is a most talented one, and has a host of friends in Richmond, who always look forward with pleasure to her summer visits here. The tally-ho party started from Miss Murphy's home, and from thence to the Reservoir; from there to the new Richmond, where, in the Dutch Room, refreshments were served, after which the tally-ho was driven to Lakeside. Here the merry party came home, and indulged in the same section where her grandfather, Virginia's gallant soldier and statesman, lies in the sleep of peace.

Among those present were Miss Armstrong, Margaret Murphy, Ethel Grey, Nell Murphy, Florence Ryan and Mayme Murphy; Messrs. Warren Goddard, James Manning, Hattors Valentine, Malcolm Ward, of Atlanta, Ga.; Horace Gooch, John McGeorge and Westwood Williams. Miss Armstrong was again entertained Friday night in Miss Murphy's home on Harrison Street. Mr. Thomas Ryan, of Harrison Street, was the guest of honor, and his most happy style. His rendition of "The Deathbed of Benedict Arnold" would have done credit to a professional orator. Miss Armstrong recited "Her Letter," and Miss Margaret Murphy rendered "Grand Valse de Concert" and "Pavane" on the piano. It was indeed a most talented assemblage, and one that gave enjoyment to entertainers and entertained.
